

6th International Collective Action Conference

Basel, Switzerland | 9–10 June 2022

Position your organisation as a global leader in business integrity and Collective Action

The International Collective Action Conference (ICAC) is the leading global forum dedicated to strengthening business integrity through multi-stakeholder collaboration.

Hosted by the Basel Institute on Governance, the conference convenes senior professionals from across sectors and regions to advance practical, collaborative approaches to anti-corruption.

The 6th ICAC will offer a high-level but hands-on space for dialogue, peer learning and strategic engagement. Participation is free of charge, with attendance limited to 150 participants.

As in 2024, the conference will combine high-level panel discussions with interactive breakouts and peer learning.

Participants:

Private sector

Government

Civil society

Academia

Development banks

International organisations

Americas

Europe

Asia

Africa

→ To support inclusive global participation and high-quality programming, we invite private-sector organisations to sponsor or support the conference.

Why sponsor the ICAC?

Position your organisation as a leader in business integrity both within the global Collective Action community and beyond – reaching companies, international organisations, development banks and civil society actors engaged in anti-corruption and responsible business.

Demonstrate commitment to ethics and responsible business conduct, supporting corporate social responsibility, ESG and sustainability reporting in line with UN Global Compact and OECD standards.

Provide high-value professional development for compliance, legal, risk and ESG teams through access to international good practices, practical tools and peer learning.

Strengthen internal integrity culture and reinforce leadership messaging on ethics and transparency.

Support fair and competitive markets by contributing to Collective Action initiatives that reduce corruption risks and level the playing field.

Enable inclusive global participation, ensuring diverse perspectives from emerging markets and high-risk contexts.
